Wild Cat Spotlight

Hello Smyrna Families! My name is Lisa Jett and I was fortunate enough to join the Smyrna third grade team this fall! I started my teaching career in 2007 at Freedom Elementary in Bullitt County. While at Freedom, I had the privilege of teaching kindergarten and first grade before moving into the Response to Intervention position where I helped students catch up to their peers in reading, writing, and math.

Teaching at Freedom also afforded me the chance to be their Archery coach over the past four years. A sport that I would love to introduce to Smyrna Scholars!

When I am not teaching at Smyrna, I am spending my time at home with my husband and our two beautiful daughters-Caitlyn who is 11 and Lillian who is 8. If you ask the scholars in my class, they would be the first ones to tell you that I live on a miniature farm! Aside from gardening we raise chickens, ducks, and are in the process of adding baby goats to our home this summer!
